Following his plan to completely reorganize the Nationals, Manager Cantillon last night released Lave Cross, and Larry

For the past few weeks the work of the veteran third baseman has not been satisfactory to Cantillon, and it was generally understood that he would be disposed of, but the release last night came s quite a surprise, as it was thought that Cross would be retained until some suitable substitute could be secured. The first step in that direction was taken on Monday, when Jim Delehanty was purchased, as was exclusively announced in yesterday's Herald, and yesterday, when it was announced that Mike Kelley was ineligible for the American League, Canillon decided to bring Shipki from Des Moines in order that he can play the corner if Delehanty fails to make good. Cross was born in Sandusky, Ohio, and played his first game of professional ball

Cantillon asked for waivers on Schlafly some time ago, in the hope of being able to place him with some minor league club, Jack Dunn, of Baltimore, was here last night, and he may obtain Schlafly for the Orioles.

New York, June 11.-James R. Keene's Peter Pan, a 15-to-20 favorite, was vicorious in the Standard Stakes, a weightfor-age race, at a mile and a quarter, run in sensational style at Gravesend to-day. The Commando colt, with Mountain up, set a terrific pace all the way, followed by J. C. Vannes' Electioneer, by Voter-Quesal, who won the Futurity last year. Electioneer was quoted at 18 to 5, and, as it was his first time out, the smart players did not believe that he could take he measure of Mr. Keene's star threeyear-old. But as the race was run Elec-tioneer, under poor handling by Koerner, created the general impression that in another duel under similar conditions he would turn the tables.

Mountain hugged the rail with Peter Pan, while Electioneer turned wide into the home stretch.
